Camp No.2 is within 200 yards of the main shaft of the Consolidated company's mine, where the attempt to reopen by this company will be made tomorrow Civilians, unless on urgent business, will not be permitted within the camp lines.

NEED FOR TROOPS.

Gov. Sparks tonight said that he is satisfied that Gen. Funston will find ample need for the troops here, and that he will advise that they remain in Goldfield all winter. He says that he sees no reason for changing his views regarding the wisdom of sending the troops here, and that the good results will be shown in the future when a repetition of the terribic scenes of other camps during such struggles will be repetition of the terrible scenes of other camps during such struggles will be avoided and a settlement of the labor difficulties secured by peaceful means. One thing that developed today is the tact that the John S. Cook & Co. bank will probably be able to meet the first payroll under the new wage schedule in Goldfield, and that all wages will be paid in gold hereafter. This will have a tendency to induce more of the miners to return to work than might otherwise do so, as the one grievance, appearing on the surface, that led to the present lockout was the fact that the wages were paid in scrip. that the wages were paid in scrip.

Dr. Hornaday Convinced There Are Many Unlisted Species,

New York, Dec. 12.—Dr. W. T. Hornaday, director of the Bronx park zoo, has returned from a two months' trip in Mexico, where he went to study the mountain sheep of that country. He is more than ever convinced that there are many unlisted species of sheep to be found in Mexican mountain ranges. One sheep he shot measured 39 inches high at the shoulder and weighed 300 pounds, which Dr. Hornaday says is the largest mountain sheep he has ever heard of.

Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas Makes it the Subject of His Maiden Speech.

GIVEN A CAREFUL HEARING

In Seventeen Years of Sherman Anti-Trust Law Not One Trust Has Been Tamed Much Less Destroyed.

Washington, Dec. 11.-Passionate ratory marked the proceedings of the hate today. Senator Jefferson Davis of Arkansas, who, when elected, dedared that he would attack the trusts immediately after taking is seat, futfilled his promise, although he was a few days late in doing so. The speech was filled with sensational declarations, and was given with that vigor for which the Arkansas senator is famous in his own state. Quaint phrasing, pointed denunciations and evidences of intense emotion characterized his remarks. He was given a careful hearing by senators, and the galleries were well filled throughout the time he held the floor. Beginning shortly before I o'clock, he spoke for a little more than an hour.

o'clock, he spoke for a little more than an hour.

After declaring that his bill, rigorously enforced, would kill the trusts, with dramatic effect he challenged any lissue with him. A domestic corporation found fixing the price of any article would, by his bill, he said, have its charter forfelted, and a foreign corporation guilty of such an act would not be allowed to do business in the Uninti de States. He spoke of the Sherman anti-trust law. "Has it proven effectual?" he asked. "Has it destroyed a single trust? Under its operation have hey not grown stronger, defiant and arrogant? Almost for 17 years the Sherman anti-trust law has been upon our statute books, more than four limes as long as it took the north to year out the south upon the bloody leld of batile. Nearly seven years of dr. Roosevelt's strenuous term have assed, with all the machinery of the overnment at his back, with the great sower of the chief executive in his ands, yet I ask, will some Republican enator upon this floor tell me one rust that ever has been tamed, much ass destroyed."

Senator Davis recalled Mr. Havemeyer's statement before the industrial

TRIBUTE TO JACKSON.

"Our president, and 1 speak of him in the most respectful terms, besides bis salary of $50,000 a year for traveling expenses, and approximately $113,000 and nually for living expenses. Ah, Mr. President, this is enormous. This is unreasomable. The president of the United States has five children, I believe. It is true that he should live in accordance with the dignity of the position, the greatest executive upon the fave of the earth, but, Mr. President. I have the president 'skinned a city block' in the matter of family. I have eight children, and it does not take $112,000 for my living expenses. No, sir, the greatest president that ever inaugurated in this Capitel, in my judgment, was 'old Hickory' Jackson, who rode his horse to the White House, dressed in a suit of blue jeans."

The senator denounced stock gambling, and said he would do away with gambling in cotton, grain and the ne-

As he proceeded he showed great emotion and his voice trembled. His words rang with resounding effect throughout the chamber.

Speaking of the annual appropria-tions for the expenses of the govern-ment, amounting to $990,000,000, he turned to Senator Beveridge and add-ed.

Pile it up on this floor, and let my "Pile it up, on this floor, and let my good-looking young friend, the senator from Indiana, start to count it. He would be as old as Methusaleh before be could count half of it."

The senator detailed appropriations made for maintaining the White House.

home."
The inadvectence of speech brought laughter from all parts of the cham-

vis. "is in a trust except across and persimmons."

"Holy writ," he said, "admonishes us to go into the vineyard and work. I have found nothing in the Good Book that warrants any of us going into the vineyard to corner all the grapes."

"The president," he said, "has taken off the dollar the words 'to God We Trust.' It's time to take it off. I wonder what the grand old party is going to put on the dollar."

RESPONSIBILITY FOR PANIC.

"This panie was started by thes

"I am for the under dog, Senator Mc-Laurin," he said, addressing the sen-ator from Mississippi, who sat before him, "Whenever you hear of a dog teturned against him yesterday after the jury which had tried him, deliberated three hours. It was charged that Giannone hired Bruno Cardea to kill Lugi Favata, with whose wife Giannone was in love. Cardea stabbed Favata with a knife, given him by Giannone but Favata was not killed. Giannone then, according to the evidence, declared his love to Mrs. Favata and tried to induce her to kill her husband, giving her poison to administer to him. She did not do as she was asked. Cardea was convicted of an assault upon Favata and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. He and Mrs. Favata were the principal witnesses against Giannone.

BRISTOL'S NOMINATION.

Withdrawn Because His Course Has Been Unsatisfactory. Washington, Dec. 11.-It was anounced at the department of justice eday that the nomination of William C. Bristol. United States attorney for Oregon, which had been sent to the senate, would be withdrawn, in accordince with the department's recommendation to the president.

The department's announcement says:

"Mr. Bristol's course with reference to the land fraud prosecutions in Oregon has been unsatisfactory to the department and the action of the department is due to this fact and to the attitude taken by Mr. Bristol in some recent telegraphic correspondence with the department.
